I Like Myself!
By: Karen Beaumont
Narrators 1-7

Narrator 1: I like myself.
Narrator 2: I’m glad I’m me.
Narrator 3: There’s no one else I’d rather be.
Narrator 4: I like my fingers,
Narrator 5: my ears,
Narrator 6: my nose.
Narrator 7: I like my fingers
Narrator 1: and my toes.
Narrator 2: I like me wild.
Narrator 3: I like me tame.
Narrator 4: I like me different
Narrator 5: and the same.
Narrator 6: I like me fast.
Narrator 7: I like me slow.
Narrator 1: I like me everywhere I go.
Narrator 2: I like me on the inside, too,
Narrator 3: for all I think and say and do.
Narrator 4: Inside, outside, upside down,
Narrator 5: from head to toe and all around,
Narrator 6: I like it all!
Narrator 7: It is all me!
Narrator 1: And me is all I want to be.
Narrator 2: And I don’t care in any way
Narrator 3: what someone else may think or say.
Narrator 4: I may be called a silly nut
Narrator 5: or crazy cuckoo bird-
Narrator 6: so what?
Narrator 7: I have too much fun, you see,
Narrator 1: for anything to bother me!
Narrator 2: Even when I look a mess,
Narrator 3: I still don’t like me any less,
Narrator 4: ‘cause nothing in this world, you know,
Narrator 5: can change what’s deep inside and so…
Narrator 6: No matter if they stop and stare,
Narrator 7: no person
Narrator 1: ever
Narrator 2: anywhere
Narrator 3: can make me feel that what they see
Narrator 4: is all there really is to me.
Narrator 5: I’d still like me with fleas or
warts,
Narrator 6: or with a silly snout that snorts,
Narrator 7: or knobby knees or hippo hips,
Narrator 1: or purple polka-dotted lips,
Narrator 2: or beaver breath
Narrator 3: or stinky toes
Narrator 4: or horns protruding from my nose,
Narrator 5: or – yikes! –
Narrator 6: with spikes all down my spine,
Narrator 7: or hair that’s like a porcupine.

Narrator 1: I still would be the same, you see...

ALL: I like myself because I’m ME!
